I have been trying to minimize coffee, increase exercise, and maintain a healthy diet. One thing that I am really, really bad at is eating vegetables. I know for a fact I don't eat anywhere near to the suggested amount of vegetables daily as I should. You should eat roughly 2 1/2 cups of vegetables and 2 cups of fruit daily to maintain a healthy diet. (Based off of a 2,000 daily calorie intake.) I think I eat on average less than half a cup of veggies daily. That is simply horrible. I got the opportunity to read this Ebook Green Smoothies: The Weight Loss & Detox Secret: 50 Recipes for a Healthy Diet (Special Diet Cookbooks & Vegetarian Recipes Collection Book 3) by Johnathan Vine. I went into this hoping I would find an easy way to increase my vegetable intake! The first thing I loved about this book is that it wasn't just a recipe book. It explains the importance of green smoothies! He discusses the nutritional value, the weight loss value, different types, and different tips! After he goes into this detail about the smoothies he starts discussing recipes. I found this to be really helpful because I personally don't make a lot of smoothies and it was really beneficial for me to read the different values and explanations of how great these can be for me. I was also excited to see that the green smoothies weren't just vegetables but that some include fruit too! (I like fruit more than vegetables.) Some of the recipes that I am dying to try are: Apple and Spinach Smoothie, Almond and Strawberry Smoothie, Watermelon and Spinach Smoothie, Tropical Green Smoothie, & the Spiced Pumpkin Smoothie. I would be lying if I didn't say that in reality- I want to try them all!
